Nathan Hale, F.O.I.F.

The last meeting of the Nathan Hale branch, Friends of Irish Freedom, was held at the Cosmopolitan hall, Thursday evening, Aug. 4th. A galaxy of song and dance talent headed by our sultans of mirth and melody, Messrs. Smith and Dineen, made the evening a very enjoyable one. Thanks are due to Mr. Horgan, violinist; Mary Kelly, comedienne; Walter McNally, ventriloquist; Mr. Collins and Mrs. Dineen, for their "bits" of melody; Miss Anna Dalton and her pupils—those sweet little misses who danced their way into our hearts.

Owing to the decease of our president, Joseph McDonald, Mr. Needham presided and wielded the gavel in his usual genial and scholarly fashion. New members included W. J. O'Grady, an overseas veteran with two years' experience in France and Germany. At the next meeting Mr. O'Grady is scheduled to tell of his experiences on the battlefields and a trip that he made to Ireland on his way home.

The feature of the evening was a very remarkable address by M. J. McGeoghegan of Auburn Highlands. Mr. McGeoghegan's address bristled with logic and incontrovertible facts and brought his audience to their feet time and time again. Mr. McGeoghegan is one of those one thousand per cent Americans who can always be found on the battle line espousing a just cause. In progressive and patriotic religious and civic movements in the vicinity, Mr. McGeoghegan stands second to none

His address in part follows:

"To the people of Ireland as to the oppressed of every land, America seems a veritible goddess of liberty. To her they turn in simple faith. She was born of liberty, and from her cradle on she has been the hope, the inspiration of all races that craved the deathless blessing of freedom.

"An American can sympathize with the Irish cause and still be loyal to his country because in both cases his heart is true to the grand and glorious principle for which the brave of all ages have fought and died—liberty.

"Liberty! It is a word to conjure with. It fell from the lips of the brave men who wrote the Declaration of Independence — who signed that proclamation of freedom for the human race.

"Liberty! What a glorious sound it has. It brings up visions of golden harvests, happy children smiling women and strong men.

"Liberty transforms a spiritless piece of clay into a noble soul. It arms with a weapon which no despot can take away. It is the creator of courage, and courage is man's greatest weapon in the unending struggle for life, liberty and pursuit of happiness.

"You can imprison the body of man, and laden his limbs with cancerous chains, but so long as liberty lights his eyes with the unbeaten glow of courage, his splendid soul is free.

"Ireland looks to us because of all the nations of the earth we stand as the embodiment of freedom. Can we look with unmoved eye or listen with stony ears to her plea for liberty?

"We would be less than Americans if we could not feel the throb of sympathy beat in our hearts at Ireland's struggle to break the bonds of her ancient slavery.

"Independence or self determination is a principle of government built upon the rock of right. Under this principle, Ireland is as entitled to liberty as are we.

"Before we entered the great war, it might have with some reason been urged that it was none of our business whether Ireland gains her freedom or not, that we might sympathize with her, but had no right to protest against England's keeping the Irish in bonds intolerable.

"We entered the war to save Belgium, to rescue Serbia, to protect France, and even England. We paid in blood and gold a price a mountain high that others might be free. If we had a right to interfere to save the Belgians, why in heaven's name must we turn a deaf ear to Ireland's cry for help?

"Are the Irish less human than the Belgians? Does freedom mean less to them than to the Serbs? Has an Irish babe not so much right to be born free as a Belgian infant? Are Irish women less true, and Irishmen less courageous than these other races for whose liberty we gave our best and bravest boys on the bloody fields of France?

"Did we owe a greater debt to the Belgians than we do to the Irish? Have we forgotten how Irish volunteers flocked to Washington's standard in the grim heroic days of the rebellion? Do we remember the Irish who died to save the union in the civil war?

"We risked all to save Europe from the menace of the kaiser. Does patriotism bid us watch in silence the ravishing of Ireland?

"Ireland is an armed camp, as much under the iron heel of militarism as was Belgium. Irish patriots are thrown into jail. Not a village in the green isle but what feels the brutal force of British despotism.

"Germany tried to break the spirit of Belgium by making life so unbearable that they would gladly accept serfdom as a welcome relief. England is trying the same trick with Ireland. She wants to make the Irish so wretched that they will plead for a return to the old order. She is doomed to failure.

"A nation that has held steadfastly for independence for seven centuries cannot be bulldozed into forgetting what Emmet, Pearce and McDonough died for.

"The red badge of courage is a rightful inheritance of every Irishman. The love of liberty has been handed down from father to son through the ages.

"We must not ask liberty for Ireland for fear of offending England! What coward says so? What cur dares deny the right of every American to sympathize with any movement of any people to attain the sun-kissed heights of freedom?

"We do but poorly deserve the freedom won by the swords of our forefathers, if we have so little of their spirit that we dare not even offer our sympathy to the people of Ireland in their age-old fight for Liberty.

"Love of Ireland flames high in Irish hearts today, and it will take more than the prisons and hangmen and bayonets of England to quench the fires of patriotism."

Social at Auburn Park Federated Church

The Mother's Club of the Auburn Park Federated church gave their pastor, Mr. and Mrs. Gay, a social on their first wedding anniversary, Thursday evening, Aug. 5th. About two hundred were present, including members and friends of the Auburn Park Federated church.

Little Dorothy Gaylord recited a poem composed by Mrs. Woodward as she presented a beautiful basket of flowers in which was hidden a purse. As Mr. and Mrs. Gay walked down the aisle to receive their gift Lohengrin's wedding march was played by Miss Helen Galloway. Miss Constance Folger delighted us with a group of songs. Miss Helen Galloway sang "Oh Promise Me" in a very charming manner. The quartet in costume, by Dr. and Mrs. Finn, Mrs. Woodward and Miss Constance Folger with Miss Galloway at the piano was exceptionally good.

After spending a social hour all departed congratulating Mr. and Mrs. Gay and wishing them many years of happiness to come.

Electric Sign Brightens Halsted Street

The new, large and beautiful electric sign of the Arion Music Shop, 7925 S. Halsted St., is now in full glow. It can be seen for many blocks and surely illuminates and helps considerably to give 79th and Halsted Sts. a good appearance during the evening.

My! But a Shirt Attracts Attention

The many patrons of Kraber's Market, 7810 S. Halsted St., have wondered what became of the pretty shirt exhibited by Mr. Fred Bauch, the efficient butcher. We might offer an explanation, it is either in the wash or Fred has lost some of his courage. For the benefit of those in Auburn who have not had the pleasure of viewing said shirt, we would like to describe it, but our vocabulary of colors will not enable us to do so.

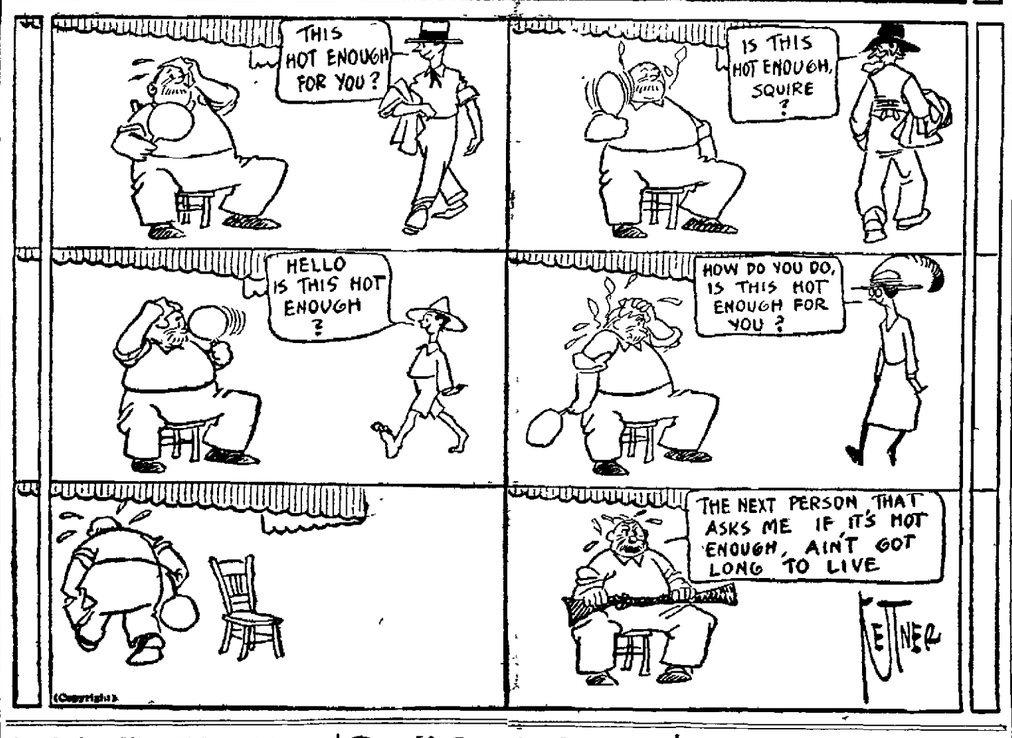
The Infernal Question



F. O. I. F.

The Robert Emmet branch held an unusually successful meeting at St. Ann's hall Wednesday evening, Aug. 4th, and was fortunate in having as the speaker of the evening that peerless orator, Hon. Wm. E. Mason, Ireland's faithful and fearless friend, stalwart American and friend of humanity. He spoke against the League of Nations as un-American, contrary to the teachings of George Washington, who warned his countrymen against any entangling alliance with Europe. He also spoke for the Mason bill and promised the bill would pass at the next session of congress, and in his perioration said Ireland must and shall be free as no nation was ever good enough to govern another without that nation's consent.

He received a splendid ovation from a crowded house and was unanimously elected an honorary member of the Robert Emmet branch and accepted the honor with gratitude. The meeting was opened with the singing of the Star Spangled Banner by the Misses Lillian Reiter and Coleta Stoecker, soloists of St. Martin's choir, and the audience; recitation by Miss Veronica Kammen of St. Martin's Dramatic School of Art. Paul Dillon, the champion dancer of Ireland, and Miss Ellena McKeown danced the beautiful dances of Ireland. Miss Margaret Keyes and Mr. Edwin A. Smith sang selections from Chauncey Olcott and Fiske O'Hara. The music was furnished by Prof. Wm. McCormick, the popular favorite, Miss Theresa Geary, on the violin, and Tom McGrath on the flute. Ice cream and social tea biscuit were served by the young ladies of the branch under the leadership of Mesdames McGinnis, Raphael and Miss Margaret McCarthy. President De Valera was endorsed. Irish and American dancing was indulged in. One hundred and twenty-nine new members were initiated and twenty-one held over until next meeting, making one hundred and fifty all told. On the whole it was one of the most successful meetings ever sponsored by this popular patriotic and social organization. Great credit is due President O'Grady and his colleagues for the splendid team work done on this occasion. Next meeting is due Sept. 1st; will be still better.

Grand Carnival at St. Margaret's

There will be a grand carnival given by the people of St. Margaret's parish, 95th and Throop Sts., commencing Thursday evening, Aug. 12, to continue for one week, and the clergy and people of St. Margaret's extend a cordial invitation to their friends and neighbors of Auburn Park and Gresham to come and participate with them in the fun and merriment that will take place at this, the greatest carnival of the season. There will be an Irish village and Irish and American dancing, a brass band and the handsomest colleens in beautiful Beverly Hills will have charge of the many booths. Valuable prizes will be disposed of at the end of the carnival week; one is a beautiful new 5 passenger Dort automobile; one large Victrola talking machine, electric sewing machine, vacuum cleaners, electric lamps, electric washing machines, curling irons, etc. Last but by no means least, a beautiful hand made Irish lace collar and an Irish lace corset cover. They are things of beauty and a joy forever. Come up and see the genial Fr. Hurley and his assistant, Fr. Gallagher, and you will come away feeling better and happier that you met those hospitable people of beautiful Beverly Hills.

Office closed from August 1st to August 30th. Dr. W. J. Thayer, 633 W. 79th Street.

If your watch needs repairing, bring it to Nelson, 7816 Halsted St.

Mr and Mrs. Davenport of 8414 Green St., accompanied by Miss Jean and Helen Simpson, left this week for an auto trip to New York. Some friends from Oak Park accompanied them in another car, making a party of eight.

L. Kaiser & Son, residents of Auburn for the past twevle years, have purchased the bakery located at 7353 S. Halsted St. First class goods at reasonable prices assured. Wedding and party cakes a specialty. Your patronage will be appreciated.

She Took Them—"I don't know whether I like these pictures or not," said the young woman. "They seem rather indistinct."

"But you must remember, madam," said the wily photographer, "that your face is not at all plain."—Boston Transcript

Silver A-Plenty But Not a Man Asked for Help

Where are the wanderers of yesteryear?

The Rev. Eli Sliser, superintendent of the Cathedral Shelter, 6 Delaware Pl., a mission, had concluded his sermon yesterday. He asked for those who wished to signify a belief in the gospel. Five hands were raised.

"Now," said the Rev. Mr. Sliser, "if there are any of you men present who are in need"—the speaker drew forth a handful of silver coins—"I would be glad to give you something to help along."

He had no takers.

Where are the wanderers of yesteryear?

"John Barleycorn"

Donald F. R. MacGregor

John Barleycorn, my jo John,
We have kenn'd each ither lang;
And of your and our cronies, John,
I have sung mony a sang;
But gone are all our frien's, John,
And you are foughten so—
Weel here's "a right gude-willie waught,"(*)
John Barleycorn, my jo.

John Barleycorn, my jo, John,
There are mony miss you bad;
And yet would swear by heaven above,
A drink they niver had;
And I'll bewail you sair, John,
When my reamin' jugs all go—
Weel, here's anither "willie waught,"
John Barleycorn, my jo.

John Barleycorn, my jo, John,
Those were the rantin days;
When back in auld lang syne, my jo,
I used to sing your praise;
But gone are a' our cronies, John,
Their fate I dinna know—
Weel, here's anither "willie waught,"
John Barleycorn, my jo.

(*) A satisfying drink.

Mistakes and Comebacks

When the plumber makes a mistake he charges twice for it.

When a lawyer makes a mistake he has a chance to try the case all over again.

When a carpenter makes a mistake it's just what he expected.

When a doctor makes a mistake he buries it.

When a judge makes a mistake it becomes a law of the land.

When a preacher makes a mistake nobody knows the difference.

But when an editor makes a mistake—good night.

"The American"

Said Dan McGann to a foreign man who worked at the self-same bench,
"Let me tell you this," and for emphasis, he flourished a Stillson wrench,
"Don't talk to me of this burjoissee,
don't open your mouth to speak
Of your Socialists or your Anarchists, don't mention the Bolsheveek,
For I've had enough of this foreign stuff,
I'm as sick as a man can be
Of the speech of hate, and I'm telling you straight that this is the land for me!"

"If you want to brag, just take that flag, an' boast of its field of blue,
An' praise the dead an' the blood they shed for the peace of the likes o' you.
I'll hear no more," and he waved once more his wrench in a forceful way,
"O' the cunning creed o' some Russian breed.
I stand for the U. S. A.!
I'm done with your fads, and your wild-eyed lads, don't flourish your rag o' red
Where I can see, or at night there'll be tall candles around your bed.

"So tip your hat to a flag like that!
Thank God for its stripes an' stars!
Thank God you're here where the roads are clear away from your kings and czars.
I can't just say what I feel today, for I'm not a talkin' man.
But first an' last I am standin' fast for all that's American.
So don't you speak of the Bolsheveek, I'm sick of that stuff, I am,
One God, one flag is the creed I brag! I'm boosting for Uncle Sam."

—Holyoke Transcript.

Explicit—"Can you send a man out?" was the telephone message received at the garage. "My car is on the main pike, four miles from town."

"Yes, I can send a man, but it will simplify things if you can tell me exactly what is the matter with the car."

"I can easily do that. The thingumbob has jammed, thus fouling the what's-its-name."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Number—He lay by the roadside groaning and writhing with pain. A policeman came up and asked him what was the matter.

"I ate one—I ate one," moaned the sufferer.

The policeman was puzzled at first, but quickly grasped the situation.

"Poison!" he muttered. All poisons have antidotes. Therefore, it was necessary to discover which poison the sufferer had taken in order to administer the right antidote.

"Well, what did you eat?" gently inquired the constable.

"You blithering ass," retorted the sufferer. "I didn't eat anything!"

"Then why did you say 'I ate one'?"

"Because I-81 is the number of the motor that knocked me down, you idiot!" yelled the victim.—Toronto Mail.

NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY SUGAR, SAYS GROCER

Higher Prices to Come Back Soon; Good Supply of Vegetables Received

Chicago housewives are advised today by the head of one of the city's leading wholesale grocery houses to buy their sugar now for the canning season. With granulated sugar selling at prices ranging from 21 to 25 cents a pound and with no restrictions as to the amount the purchaser may have, now, he said, is the time of year to purchase this commodity, inasmuch as the peak price of near 30 cents a pound will be with us again before many weeks have passed.

There is some optimism for the home food buyer, also, in the vegetable market, for potatoes are coming in at a good rate and the retail price is around 75 to 80 cents a peck, if based upon Saturday's quotations by the jobbers, $6 to $6.25 a barrel of 180 pounds. Onions, cabbage and bunch vegetables, with the exception of radishes, also are cheap now, while berries are going out of season and are high. Peach and apple prices are high now, but prospects for lower prices in apples are bright, with bumper crops in New York, according to government bureau of market figures.

Warns Against Hoarding

"In advising housewives to buy sugar now I do not mean to tell them to purchase large quantities and hoard it," said the wholesaler in speaking of the sugar situation. "There is plenty of sugar in Chicago and at present prices in the retail stores it is selling cheaper than in any other city in the country. The action of the federal reserve bank in asking member banks to call loans or to refuse loans for speculative purposes has resulted in throwing large amounts of sugar on the market that had been held by speculators.

"Another factor in the present easiness of the sugar market here is the fact that, in the last week or so, the railroads have moved many cars of sugar into Chicago that had been enroute for months. The dealers are selling this sugar, which was purchased to relieve the shortage here. The prices quoted by the retailers are lower than the New York refinery price today. With sugar selling in many places here at 21 cents, the New York refinery price, f. o. b. New York, ranges from $22.95 to $23.50 a hundred pounds. That means 27 to 28 cent sugar at retail in Chicago when present stocks are exhausted."

Potatoes Expected to Go Lower

Potatoes, selling lower now than they have in some time, should come still lower, according to crop experts, for the weather has been favorable and the crops have been large, although the acreage has been smaller than last year's. Potatoes usually drop in price at this time of year, according to the bureau of market men, for this is the time when the southern shippers are hurrying their tubers into market.

CHICAGO HOUSING PROJECT MAGNET FOR WIDE WORLD

New Community at 87th and State Sts. Has Become a Town in Itself in 6 Months

(Reprint from Calumet Index)

More than twenty of the houses are already occupied, all have been assigned, a new city of 175 homes and nearly 1,000 people has been created in six months, and the operation of the Chicago Housing Association at 87th and State streets has become the mecca for economists from all over this country and from Europe.

Several families moved into their new homes last Sunday. Several others came in Monday morning, and according to P. D. Diamond, superintendent of construction, the influx is steady and continuous daily. Soon every one of the 175 new homes will be occupied by its owner.

Much has already been told of this experiment in solving the housing problem of a great city. Let it suffice to repeat that these homes have been erected by the Chicago Housing Association, and are being sold, virtually at cost, to deserving American citizens, on time payments that average much less per month than the average monthly rental now being paid for similar accommodations.

Will Launch Bigger Project

So successful has this experiment been, that greatly increased financial support has been obtained by the association, and Mr. Diamond states that in the immediate future another and much larger project will be launched in this part of the city.

"I can go so far as to say that the plans of the association contemplate the ultimate erection, within a comparatively short time, of not less than 50,000 of these homes right here in Chicago," said Mr. Diamond.

Foundation of Nation Building

It is only fair and proper to state that the project now nearing completion, and the greater project contemplated, are not matters of paternalism, but they constitute a very intelligent measure of nation building, because man for man the home owner is the better citizen.

Roger Babson, the statistical expert, has stated that the principal reason why Russia so quickly crumpled before the German invasion and intrigue, was that 95 per cent of the people owned only 5 per cent of the land, and 5 per cent of the people owned 95 per cent of the land. Therefore the patriotic instincts of the majority of the people were not deep rooted, and in many did not even exist.

Attracts Wide Attention

"The barometer of the defensive strength of a nation hereafter," added Mr. Babson, "must be its percentage of home owners."

Investigators from numerous great cities throughout the United States have already visited the home building operation at 87th and State streets. They have been sent here by the Chambers of Commerce of San Francisco, St. Louis, New York, Pittsburg, Boston, Detroit and Cincinnati, and last Sunday the mayor and almost the entire board of aldermen of Milwaukee visited in a body.

From North Dakota has come R. B. Blakemore, manager of the Home Builders Association of that state which was recently given very strong impetus by the United States supreme court decision upholding the constitutionality of the law which provides alike for the building of homes and for loans of money to home seekers.

Sweden Sends Representative

During the past week another very interested visitor was a representative of the National Housing Association of Sweden, which is investigating home building and town building projects all over the world. He was delighted with what he found in Chicago.

Policemen and firemen seem to top the list of the new home owners of this first project. There are also numerous office men, and artisans of a dozen trades, while the community will have one doctor, a young man recently graduated who proposes to "grow up with the town."

There are bricklayers and there are painters; there are electricians and there are elevator men. The big majority are of American birth, though a very few heads of families were born abroad. But these latter have been naturalized, and all are American citizens.

Hats in the Ring—Are you in favor of women taking active part in politics?

"I'm not sure," replied Mr. Meekton. "If Henrietta takes to throwing her hat in the ring, it's going to cost something."—Washington Star.

RAT SWATTING CAMPAIGN IS BEGUN WITH SURVEY

Health Commissioner Dr. John Dill Robertson has begun a campaign to rid Chicago of its "dangerous and destructive rat population." Steps already have been taken in a survey of the district from the river to Van Buren St. and from Michigan Ave. to the river on the west to spot rat infested places.

A warning against too careless treatment of measles and whooping cough was also issued by Dr. Robertson. Last year measles killed 197 children and whooping cough 141, a total of 338 deaths.

"Parents fear and take great precautions against scarlet fever, but are careless about measles and whooping cough, which annually kill more than twice as many children as the fever," said Dr. Robertson.

NEW PUMPS TO SWELL CITY'S WATER SUPPLY

In another week 100,000,000 extra gallons of water will be available daily for the district supplied by the Chicago avenue pumping station.

Installation of new electrical pumps at the Chicago avenue and Sixty-eighth street stations, interrupted a month ago when "Umbrella Mike" Boyle called a strike of forty-two electrical workers, will be resumed today.

Discovery by Charles E. Ball, head of the sanitary bureau, of contamination in lake water near the south intakes caused Health Commissioner Robertson to issue an order yesterday to residents south of Forty-third street to boil drinking water until further notice.

10-CENT "L" FARES NOW IN EFFECT

The elevated lines filed their new schedule of rates with the public utilities commission yesterday afternoon and the 10-cent fare is now in effect. Cash fares will be 10 cents, but four tickets may be purchased for 35 cents. It was expected the commission would issue an order covering the redemption of the old 7½-cent tickets now outstanding, but this was not done. President Britton I. Budd announced that all tickets now held by patrons of the roads will be redeemed at any ticket office or taken as part payment of the increased fare.

Some Car—"How do you like your new car?" asked the Lizzie Driver.

"Great," replied the Big Six Driver. "It runs so smoothly you can't feel it. Not a bit of noise, you can't hear it. Perfect ignition, you can't smell a thing. And speed—why it whizzes! You can't see it."

"Must be some car," ventured the Lizzie Driver. "Can't feel it, can't smell it, can't hear it, can't see it! How do you know it is there?"—Cincinnati Enquirer.
